Read and Rhyme Level 2 BPP0248

It's time to read and rhyme! This new series introduces young readers to word families through a simple rhyming story. Each book features up to 10 words from the same word family to reinforce the sound and letter combination. The expertly crafted text uses this rhyming pattern along with strong picture cues to help early readers get the reading practice they need. With Guided Reading Levels at C-D, Read and Rhyme: Level 2 has been designed as the second level in a three-part approach to learning word families. These fun and engaging books are guaranteed to help early readers build their reading skills and confidence.

Supersonic Phonic

New Series! Level 0-Lilac Set BPP0443

Level 0 - Lilac books support children's developing speaking and listening skills as well as the linking of sounds and letters. Children are encouraged to enjoy books from as early an age as possible. However, the focus of this phase is on listening to and repeating sounds, rather than on directly reading words. In our level 0 books, there are no words.

New Series! The Inside Guide: Movements for Equality CDS0456

Although the United States is often described as a land of opportunity and freedom, it is a fact that most people have had to fight for these rights. Furthermore, many of the fights that were started decades ago continue today, as rights have been given little by little. The disabled, LGBTQ+ and Native American communities are just a few of the groups still working to achieve rights equal to those most men have enjoyed throughout history. Through illuminating graphic organizers and engaging fact boxes, this series takes a look at important past and current civil rights struggles.

New Series! STEAM Through the Seasons ENS1715

STEAM is now a familiar acronym in elementary schools: science, technology, engineering, art and math. Together, these disciplines provide baseline curricula that form a foundation for academic and professional success. But STEAM work doesn't need to be serious or boring to be educational. This entertaining and inspiring series uses the focus of seasons as a lens to get young scholars thinking about STEAM topics in nature. Each craft is explained through accessible step-by-step instructions and illustrations, while informative sidebars give more science background on the important theme.

New Series! Tell the Tale ENS1716

Some legends are passed down from generation to generation until they become ingrained in a culture. Many of these stories teach important life lessons. Others hold people spellbound with eerie, spooky plots. Often these tales seem so real we wonder if they're true. Each volume in this fantastic series features an engaging retelling of a famous legend, such as Dracula, Rip Van Winkle, Robin Hood and Sleepy Hollow. Readers will be fascinated to learn more of the background of the lore, including possible authors, inspiration, how the story changed over time and its enduring contribution to popular culture.

New Series! What on Earth Is... ENS1718

Earth needs help. That much is often clear to even young children. But terms like intensive farming and climate change can seem like another language to them! Even pollution and renewable energy often need further explanation. This set introduces six topics related to conservation for emerging readers with beautiful, colorful images paired with simple, achievable language. Age-appropriate content explains key conservation concepts like greenhouse gases and ocean dead zones to young scientists ready to take charge and care for Earth.

New Series! What's So Special About Dinosaurs? ENS1719

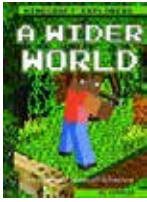

Many young readers become obsessed with dinosaurs—but why is that? Perhaps it's because so many of these creatures were impossibly large or because their long tails, spikes and plates make them look like beasts purely from mythology! In this set, readers learn just what makes some of the most popular dinos so cool, from the triceratops to the diplodocus. Including full-color images of what the dinosaurs were likely to look like, fossils and facts about size, speed and defenses, each exciting book engages elementary readers with these reptiles of the past.

Jada Jones FTG1926

Fans of Princess Posey and Ivy and Bean will enjoy engaging with science-loving Jada Jones in this easy-to-read chapter book. The early chapter book bridges between leveled readers and chapter books for fluent readers adjusting to the chapter book format. At about 5,000 words, with short chapters and two-color art on almost every page, it will appeal to this unique reader. The two-color art throughout will help readers transition from the familiar four-color art of leveled readers and ease them into black-and-white chapter books.

New Series! Pages & Co FTG1994

A magical adventure to delight the imagination. A curl-up-on-the-sofa snuggle of a debut from a uniquely talented author. Eleven year-old Tilly has lived above her grandparents bookshop ever since her mother disappeared shortly after she was born. Like the rest of her family, Tilly loves nothing more than to escape into the pages of her favourite stories. One day Tilly realises that classic childrens characters are appearing in the shop through the magic of book wandering crossing over from the page into real life. With the help of Anne of Green Gables and Alice in Wonderland. Tilly is determined to solve the mystery of what happened to her mother all those years ago, so she bravely steps into the unknown, unsure of what adventure lies ahead and what dangers she may face.

New Series! Planet Omar FTG2024

An exciting middle-grade debut starring a Muslim boy with a huge imagination. An NPR Best Book of the Year. Welcome to the imaginative brain of Omar!

Omar and his family have just moved and he is NOT excited about starting at a new school. What if the work is too hard or the kids are mean or the teacher is a zombie alien?!

But when Omar makes a new best friend, things start looking up. That is, until a Big Mean Bully named Daniel makes every day a nightmare! Daniel even tells Omar that all Muslims are going to be kicked out of the country . . . Could that possibly be true?

Luckily, Omar’s enormous imagination and goofy family help him get through life’s ups and downs.

Omar’s funny, relatable narrative is the perfect answer to the call for both mirrors and windows to fill bookshelves with diverse stories.

What's the Issue? KHP1026

Young people hear many terms they might not understand as they watch the news with their family, see headlines in newspapers or online or listen to a discussion between adults. Words and phrases such as “refugees,” “gender equality,” “racism,” and “climate change” may be unfamiliar to them, but they are critical concepts to understand as they grow up in the modern world. As readers explore these important issues, they strengthen their critical thinking skills with the help of informative text, fact boxes and graphic organizers. Detailed photographs are also included to help readers visualize each topic.

Features include: Age-appropriate text and tone allow readers to familiarize themselves with hot button social and political issues using language they understand. Fact-based approach encourages readers to develop their own informed opinions and understand the importance of objective truth over media spin and personal bias. Focus on social justice topics helps readers develop a sense of empathy for and understanding of people who are different from them.

New Series! Take Action! KHP1106

Earth is sick. Fossil fuels are filling the air, food is being wasted and resources are growing scarce. But these informative and age-appropriate guides to taking action inspire readers to begin caring for their planet and learn how to become young environmental activists. The text is excellent for explaining science, geography and environmental studies concepts and each volume includes age-appropriate activities to inspire kids to find their own ways to take action and help the planet—from riding a bike to eating leftovers.

Earth is under threat—from humans! It's time to take action—eco action.

This empowering series shows readers how they can take positive action to protect our planet and protect our future. Each call-to-action book explains the effect negative human actions have on our planet, which are contrasted with positive actions organizations are taking to reverse and reduce the damage we have caused. Children will feel encouraged by guidance that explains how they too can take eco action to help protect our planet, build a more sustainable future and carve out a career in environmental care.

New Series! Strange Science LER0458

Reality can be harsh—so why not jump to a new reality? Is that even possible? Explore some of the most popular sci-fi tropes from popular books, shows and movies. Then, learn how they're grounded in reality. From alternate realities to time travel, these ideas are now part of our everyday lives, even if they're not quite "real" yet. But is there any scientific basis behind them? Could we someday make things like warp drives, simulations and cybernetic limbs reality? Or are we just in a perpetual plot hole? Strange Science is the series that will find out.
